

The N digital "chip" can be installed in "virtually any" slot car that has sufficient space for the chip. Make sure the chip will fit before you attempt installation. The installation in NINCO cars is "straight forward" and very easy; however when talking about cars with lights and cars that use contact strips for electrical connections will require a higher skill level to complete the installation.

Use two pieces of double sided tape (stacked) to secure the chip to the chassis. Be careful to insure the chip doesn't contact the axle, motor, magnet or any metal when reassembling the body onto the chassis. Be sure that wires are not being "pinched" by the body screws.
